V. Reports/Discussions

Kristy Winger- Wednesday exploration class with secondary students- making items to sell for exploration projects and other school activities. Will be selling stuff on the stage at the Bevy of Angels. Set up starts at 5pm on Saturday. Looking for people to help! Helpers are needed to set up Saturday evening, supervision of youth at the table as well as clean up after the event. Contact Kristy Winger for more information. kristy.winger@sd8.bc.ca Also looking for Christmas lights to help decorate the stage. If you lend lights please label them with your name. There may be a gift wrapping station as well as a supervised craft station for kids.

This space on the stage will be shared with PAC. The Bevy fair is from 10-4 this Sunday Dec. 8.

Chair Report-

DPAC meeting on Thursday:

-Presentation on food equity: hot lunch and breakfast programs that are happening in the district. Kootenay Band in Creston has a greenhouse which is a consideration for future partnering with school food programs.

-Discussions about restructuring some schools. Particularly in the Slocan where some schools are crowded while others have quite small numbers. LVR which is also very full could potentially in the future be restructured along with Trafalgar.

Christmas Concert Dec. 19th at 6:30. PAC will have a bake table. Baking donations welcome.

Principal's report

Matt Winger is working with the Riondel community centre to create a virtual realty station.

Girls volleyball placed third in a competition.

Matt is working on joint projects with the kids at CBESS and Kaslo school.

International visitation/trip- tentative plan at this point is looking at kids coming from Vietnam in June for two weeks and kids from Crawford Bay going to Vietnam next October.

Matt has an idea of creating a recording studio at the school.

$2500 physical literacy grant received by the school which will be used for outdoor activities in the wetlands or ideas to create more movement for children within the school like the hop scotch in the primary hall.

Rod would like parent feedback on what skills we would like the students to graduate with and how these ideas could draw other families and students to our school. What are our hopes and dreams for our children and their education. What would we like our school to be known for. For example, our school could have a special art or outdoor education (this is already developing) component that could catch the interest of students elsewhere.

Hot Lunch Report

Hot Lunch will be looking for a school subsidy sometime in the new year.

Income $2674.25
Expenses $3271.66

Hot lunch room being rented by Rebecca Fuzzen for Bevy of Angels food prep for $100. As well as $50 rental for prepping firehall dinner. -All in favour.
